

Memorial Day

Okay here we go, or I go,

Today is memorial day so, after class Dyllon and I went back to Mears apartments. We played games for about an hour, we were both hungry, so we went to the store to buy some spam. (all native huh?) Then I thought about my family back home having a cookout so instead of just buying spam, I told Dyllon I wanted to cookout and we did. An after we had finished cooking Dyllon and his roommate were talking out their day yesterday.

So I guess todays blog is about rhetoric's five characteristics; Situation, Motivation, Interaction, Epistemic and Contingent