

Citations

Citations can be hard and no i don't mean citations from the law. What I'm talking about is citations that are involved in papers and so on. Theses are very important because without these, you are charge with plagiarism, which could cost you your education or accountability in others. To prevent these its best to use books such as Easy Writer, The MLA Handbook or Writing for College. Each of these books help with papers for MLA and/or APA, with the given conventions for the paper outline and citations.
