

My Notes 9/1/14

Write everything down! Names of students. Ben (Rubrics Cube). Jared. Molley (Time keeper for Ben). Katie (1st person to get called on). Drew Luramie (College Expensive Comment).

Scholar's perspectives. Note taking abilities/ skills/ etc.

Paper due Friday (not graded). Doesn't mean half effort. Work hard to get better. "Only you have the choice to resist or to embrace" Will. The act of writing is a way to purpose yourself to the world, to be embraced, understood, class, humanity, power to compose yourself. "If you resist, your wasting a bunch of money" (Drew). Research involves the library and Google. Ethnographic research. "Mind you bring to the moment your in" Will. Bring mind alert. Interesting to talk instead of reading. People around you are brilliant (Will). Brilliants is your brain, your mind, and the people next to you. Learn more from your peers than your professors. How to take notes while someone is talking.

Fellow scholars. First and Last name. Callie Belcher. From Houston and adjusting to weather. Geology major. Clair Giannaula. She wrote on board. Tyler Scott. "People are having ideas of what people are writing down" Scott. Make sure all information is similar. Each person is feeling different emotions. Stressed, New home, New semester. His claim is valid with reasons and examples. Molley Appel. From Denver and likes outdoors. Ethan Bussell. Asked one thing he learned, Don't be the one to say you know everything.

Bottom. Quality, paraphrasing, summarizing, referencing. Quoting a chain of quotes is not acceptable. Scholars make new knowledge. Not in college to report to professors. "They want something new" Will. They do not want repeated information. Back to students. Joe Bruemmer. Paraphrased the new knowledge.

Jessica Sowle. Disagreed with Joe and decided to make new information. Act of humanity. Listening is different than just listening.